INJURED ELEVATOR BOY BRINGS SUIT FOR DAMAGES

George Stevenson, a minor, by his guardian ad litem, filed suit in the district court Tuesday against the Keith-O'Brien company to recover damages of $10,009 for personal injuries, alleged to have been received by Stevenson while working at the store of the defendant on June $9,1909.

It is alleged that Stevenson had run the freight elevator up to the third floor of the building and was gathering parcels for the shipping room when some one removed the elevator to the basement, and when he returned he fell down the elevator shaft, which was left unprotected by a railing.

Stevenson's spine was dislocated by the fall, he says, and he assorts that he has been permanently injured. He is 15 years of age.

Shifting the Blame.

Boyce and Sutherland claim they discovered that "men higher up" in the Guggenheim service were responsible for the affair at Keystone Pass. The two federal officers say they were removed from office on the event of the bringing of proceedings against others believed by them to have been implicated in the Keystone affair. Just before the committee adjourned today a young mannamed Douglass, who has been an auditor in the employ of the Guggenheims was called to the stand. He testified that $70,000 had been expended prior to and during the Hazey trial and he charged that the expenditures had been made for the entertainment of the jurers and otherwise as a corruption fund to defeat the prosecution by federal officers.

TARIFF BOARD PLAN GETS THROUGH HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 24. - Chairman Tawney of the house appropriationities today succeeded in frantmendment to the sundry civil amendment to the sundry civil bill providing the president with $250,000 to obtain information on prices of manufactured articles, that stood the test of the rules of the house. By a strict party vote of 110 to $3 the amendment was adopted. Previously the house, by a vote of $4 to 108, rejected the Fitzgerald amendment reducing the amount to $75,000.

amendment reducing the amount to $75,000.

Two provisions to accomplish this general purpose had been ruled out of order by Mr. Mann of Illinols, who was in the chair. The first, proposed by Mr. Tawney, called for a mass of information beyond any direct requirement of the tariff law, while in his second amendment there was a provision that the president should make an investigation of such prices that he might make recommendations to congress. Both were out of order, as they provided for actions not specifically authorized by law.

Preceding the decision ruling out the first amendment Mr. Tawney accused the Democrats of desiring to be in ignorance of facts about the tariff.

ASKS MORE LIGHT ON BLUEFIELDS SITUATION

WASHINGTON. May 24—Senator Stone today introduced a resolution interrogating the secretary of state regarding the reported attempt of the Madriz Niearaguan government to establish a blockade at Bluefields.

The department is requested to state whether the naval force of the United States forbade the blockade. If the response should be in the affirmative, Mr. Stone's resolution demands the reason for it with a citation of authority. It also asks for information as to whether the United States has recognized belligerancy in Nicaragua. Present consideration of the resolution was objected to and the resolution went over.

NO MORE STALE EGGS, NO MORE COLD STORAGE, NO MORE REFRIGERATOR CARS!

A Revolution in Egg Preserving Has Been Wrought Through the Discovery of "GALO," the Marvelous Egg Preserver.

GALO will guarantee to keep eggs fresh and in their original perfect condition for at least one year.

GALO is a new discovery, the greatest of the age GALO is a bacteriological, colorless, highly antiseptic and non-poisonous fluid which will form a non-porous, air tight, hardly visible film on the egg after a momentary dip, which dries in 15 to 30 minutes. The film thus formed has a certain elasticity, resembling that of rubber, and positively will not rub off or crack, peel off or blister, in either hot or cold, dry or damp atmosphere.

GALO covered eggs may be stored in any convenient place in your home with perfect safety.

GALO film prevents any passage of air through the porous shell of the egg. The egg preserved with GALO cannot spoil.

GALO is easy to use. One quart of GALO will cover from 75 to 100 dozen eggs (according to size) with this wonderful film. GALO egg-preserver does away with cold storage and limed eggs; it in sures absolute and permanent preservation.

GALO will protect the egg from foreign odors, when stored with vegetables, such as onions, cucumbers or melons, and other similar farm products; the same holds equally true in storing eggs in one and the same room with fish and the like.
